SINOPSIS

Sabino Gurupe was a happy man... until shortly after his marriage to Elisita he signed his first bill of exchange to pay for a mixer in installments... Thus Sabino Gurupe entered the consumer society. After the mixer, came the refrigerator, the television, the flat, the furniture...

Spurred on by his mother-in-law, Ramona, and by Valentín, a friend with his own ideas about modern economy, Sabino devotes himself to pluri-employment or several different jobs at the same time, ranging from taking dogs for a walk at so much per hour, to the tourist circuit/«Sexy-suspense» but even this did not prove enough to cover the growing domestic needs.

Until one day, Sabino broke with his wife, his mother-in-law, the consumer society and the installment bills at 30, 60 and 90 days payment. But...
